

WARRIOR REFLECTIONS

BY PHIL MESSINA

Never forgive or forget the theft of freedom.

*Freedom is peripheral.
If you just march forward,
eyes straight ahead,
it will sneak away
before you notice it is gone.*

A true warrior is willing to give up the things he loves for the things he believes in.

Justice is too important to leave in the hands of government.

An Excerpt from Warrior 101:

LIBERTY

Liberty and freedom can never be found at the end of a leash.
It is the ultimate reward, through a quest for freedom.

Without freedom, there can be no liberty.

Freedom cannot be obtained without rebellion.

The freedom to struggle for liberty without persecution is the tool that is necessary before true liberty can ever be obtained.

Affirmation: I appreciate the freedoms that are granted to me and will struggle to preserve those I have gained through the sacrifices of others, in a constant effort to obtain the ultimate reward of freedom: liberty!
